HUNGKUNG, FRIDAY, MAY 21, 1869.

MANIEA DUTIES YOUYOU THE notification published in Saturday's Gazette regarding the changes in Customs dues in, and regulations for ships visiting the Philippine Islands is likely to have a most favourable influence upon the trade of that Colony. It will doubtless be within the recollection of our reiders an addition to the usual postage, with that we some time since pointed out at length the injurious effect which the he latest time for preting Letters at this former system of differential dubies ever books, or Patterna 7 A.M. on the 27th cised over the commercial development cised over the commercial development of Manile and we had the gratification of knowing that our remarks were translated od into Spanish journals, and much owe sidered by the Spanish authorities who partially acted upon them at the time The late disturbances postponed however the whole of the intended alterations being carried into effect and it was reserved for the provisional Government to establish a really liberal programme which would have materially popularized the rule which is now displaced. It is not the first time that Manila has benefited to a very marked extent by the disturbed state of the mother country. The great voyager La Perouse in describing hi visit to the Philippines drew a forcible picture of the evil effects which resulted from the jealous policy of Spain wherehe "the productions of India and Chine were at least as dear as in Europa Ships from China were even prohibite rom entering the port, while no Chine was allowed to settle in the country Even the trade between the Philippine and Mexico and South America was no better condition, a single ship being its only medium of transport. The way 1835 however, unhappily as it desolate he home provinces, resulted in the aboli tion of this abourd system of restriction which seemed to have been copied from the Chinese, and from that time to the prosent the grievances complained of have related only to the exorbitant and probi bitive rates of tariff. It is possible that some of our readers who have heard o differential duties" scarcely understoo the precise meaning of the words; they im ily "a different oustoms tariff for vestel whose nationality is other than Spanish Thus Spanish commodities imported in Spanish bottoms paid three, and foreign > vessel paid respectively eight and four articles specified in the tariff, though the difference of rate was not always uniform. The natural results of this was certainly to force the greater part of the import trade into Spanish vessels, but from the monopoly thus gained and the resulting beence of competition articles maintained prices which were far too high t permit trade to flourish. Hence the importance-of-the-Decree which has just been issued, .. This reduces by 50 per cent all the charges mentioned in the tarif over 3 to 8 per cent, the average scale of duty; and by 50 per cent the differential duty on foreign flags, which is to be ke ap for the space of two years, to counted from the time this decree endorsed by the "oumplace," both charges being suppressed at the end of the term. In the new tariff, the export due on all articles charged therewith, are suppressed; the exporters, nevertheless, being still compelled to declare the good which they export, their quality and pantity, and it being the duty of the Customs: Administrations to supervis and make note thereof in order to frame the commercial statistics of the Arch pelago. Indeed we believe that a trading country with British owners. and shipmasters, brood as much from the vexations and troublesome carle tions, which made the captains wy one long course of anxiety and annot ance, as from the tariff itself.
